The full replacement value of the goods at destination should be insured. If you do not insure for the full replacement value at destination you will only be able to recover a part of your loss from insurers. Replacement values overseas are frequently greater than in the UK. Attach a separate sheet if required. In respect of goods in long storage customers are strongly advised to review declared values periodically.

HOUSEHOLD & PERSONAL EFFECTS

- (1) Do not include cash, jewellery, watches, stamps, trinkets or similar valuables. Please see the Policy Summary for further information.
- (2) Please include every item that you intend to ship, under the appropriate category. Use additional sheets of paper if necessary.
- (3) PLEASE ENSURE THAT ITEMS VALUED INDIVIDUALLY AT MORE THAN £250.00 IS LISTED SEPERATELY, or if you have more than one item included under an article description, where their individual values are not in direct proportion to the quantity declared, you should list each separately noting its replacement value at destination, otherwise you will only be entitled to recover a proportionate part of the insured value.
